FORK UNION, Va., February 17.—For the office of county superintendent of schools, recently made vacant by the resignation of Mr. James O. Shepherd, there are already ten applicants. In view of the large number who regard themselves competent to discharge the duties of that responsible position, it is now suggested that the State Board of Education settle the matter by a rigorous competitive examination.

"Each depositor shall, when he receives his distributive share of the said new issue of bonds, pay to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund 3½ per centum in cash of the par value of the bonds received by him; and said Sinking Fund Commissioners shall cover the fund thus received into the Treasury of the Commonwealth."

Mr. Cooke advocated his amendment in a strong speech, and was followed by Mr. Mallet in opposition to it.

The amendment was voted down, and Mr. Munford effered the following in lieu of the provision referred to:

"Each depositor shall, when he receives his distributive share of the said new issue of bonds, pay to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund 3½ per centum in cash of the par value of the bonds received by thm, or a commission equal in amount to that which may at any time hereafter be fixed by the said committee of bondholders upon any bonds deposited with them—not, however, in any case to exceed 3½ per cent; and said Sinking Fund Commissioners shall cover the fund thus received into the Treasury of the

Mr. Saunders moved to strike out the claus exempting the Olcott bonds from taxation. This was defeated. Then in order to preserve the State's sovereignty over the matter he moved that the bonds should be taxable by future legislatures. This motion was also voted down. Mr. Letcher also moved to amend the bill in fine 17, section 10, but the amendment was rejected.

LEESBURG, VA., February 17.—The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias of Virginia is now in session here. Last night the Opera-House was filled when the public reception was given them. Mayor H. O. Clagett welcomed them on the part of the town, and Judge J. B. McCabe on behalf of Ketoctin Lodge, No. 32, of Leesburg. Responses were made by General James Responses were made by General James R. Carnshan, of Indianapolis, commander-in-chief of the Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias; Grand Chancellor W. L. Olivier, of Staunton, and Joseph A. Nulton, of Winchester. A banquet at Hotel Ketoctin was then partaken of, at which about 200 were entertained.

In reply to toasts speeches appropriate, solid, and witty were made by General Carnshan, Grand Vice-Chancellor Issae Diggs, of West Point; William McK. Woodnouse, of Princess Anne; G. S. Lightner, of Staunton; T. H. Virnelson, past grand chancellor, of Portsmouth, and Leonard Marbury, past grand chancellor of Alexandria. The Grand Lodge has representatives here from all but three or four of the lodges in the State.

At a meeting of the officers of the Virginia Division of the Uniformed Rank held last night, Major-General Carnahan presiding and Thomas H. Virnelson, of Division No. 1, of Portsmouth, acting adjustant, the election for regimental officers resulted in the choice of the following: D. J. Turner, Jr., Division No. 1, colonel; S. L. Munroe, Division No. 8, licattenant colonel; C. C. Taylor, Division No. 12, major; C. S. Wiley, Division No. 12, surgeon, and Rev. E. W. McCorkle, Division No. 12, chaplain. Statements from division officers were of a flattering nature with respect to present condition and future prospects. The division officers adjourned to meet in Portsmouth on the 5th of May, 1892.

GRAND CHANCELLOR'S REPORT.

GRAND CHANCELLOR'S REPORT. GRAND CHANCELLOR'S REPORT.

The report of Grand-Chancellor Olivier says: "Another year has rolled around, and it is a matter of profound congratulation to me in laying down the office of Grand Chancellor, to be able to report that our noble order has made no step backwards during the past year. Our banners still float high, our Knights still keep the ranks. At this writing just one half of the reports of the district deputy grand chancellors have been received. These reports, with few exceptions, show a gain all along the line, aggregating, including two new lodges, a net gain of 350. I have every reason to believe that this has been the most prosperous increase of membership for several years."

PYTHIAN NOTES.

Salem Lodge, No. 44, has been re-established and four new lodges have been instituted—viz.: Alexandria Lodge, No. 73, Ivanhoe Lodge, No. 74, King Arthur Lodge, No. 75, and Covington Lodge, No. 61.

"Thirteen past chancellors have ceased their labors below and been called up to their reward by the Supreme Chancellor of the Universe."

The report of the Grand Master of Exchequer shows the order to be in good financial condition. PYTHIAN NOTES.

The following officers were to-day elected for the ensuing year: Past Grand Chancellor, W. L. Olivier, of Staunton; Grand Chancellor, W. L. Olivier, of Staunton; Grand Chancellor, Isaac Diggs, of West Point; Grand Vice-Chancellor, W. L. McLeod, of Suffolk; Grand Frelate, W. T. Lithgow, of Manchester (his thirteenth term); Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, Walter A. Edwards, of Norfolk; Grand Master of Exchequer, T. L. Courtney, of Richmond; Grand Master-at-Arms, Joseph A. Nulton, of Winchester; Grand Inner Guard, T. E. Hutchinson, of Smithville; Grand Outer Guard, William E. Garrett, of Leesburg.

the case, and is of much importance as to its general effect.

The suit originally was to enjoin and restrain the county from issuing bonds in payment of its subscription made to the railroad under the provision of a clause of the charter of the company allowing counties through which the road passed to subscribe to its construction.

THE FOINT INVOLVED.

The point upon which the case hinged was whether or not in an act incorporating a railroad company could be inserted sections authorizing subscriptions to its capital stock to be made by counties.

The Constitution of the State provides that no act shall have but one subject, which shall be expressed in its title. The connention was that in an act providing simply for the incorporation of the railroad company the Constitution forbade the incorporation of any provision allowing subscriptions to the capital stock of the company so chartered to be made by the counties.

The opinion of the Supreme Court is that such provisions may be incorporated in such charters, because they are germane to the general subject expressed in the title.

The counsel in the case were Mr. E. P. Buford, of Laureisville, for the appellant, and Messrs. R. B. Davis, of Petersourg, and Richard Walke, of Norfolk, for the appellees.

Shores has the reputation of being a bad and worthless character, though coming from a good family. His brother was a desperate character, and it will be remembered by old citizens of Fluvanna county that he murdered Mr. Richard Harlon, of that county—shot him down on the Court Green some years ago in cold blood for some trivial offense, and then made his escape from the county and has never been heard of there since. Citizens of Cartersville say Dr. Randolph was perfectly justifiable, and if he had killed Shores would have rid the county of a bad man.

Major John S. Bowles, of Wilmington, Fluvanna, is reported as very ill, and serious fears are entertained for his recovery. Mr. W. B. M. there wan a reaction to 93%c, and another recession to 93%c, followed by a little more firmmess till noon. During the last hour the market coatinged unaettied. May sold off to 63%c, reacted to 93%c, held for some time around that figure, and then shot up to and closed firm at 93%c, the top figure of the day. The sudden bulge was attituted to the higher closing cables and the fact that some operators had sold themselves short earlier in the day and were anxious to over, not caring to risk having their deals open overnight in view of the bullish appearance of the situation. Corn was quiet, and its fluctuations in price were confined to accumpantively marrow range, following protty closely the price changes in wheat. May opened 1%c, higher at 42°c, fluctuated between 11% 43%c, and closed at the higher flucture of the day, with a gain of $6°. Hog products were rather firm on the whole, in sympathy with the higher range of prices for grain. May pork, which closed at $11.85 yearenday, opened at $11.90, with one sale at $13, weakened gradually to $11.85, rallied, and closed at $11.97½. Lard and ribs show sight gains.

The cash quotations were as follows: Four nominally unchanged. No. 2 cars. 40%cc; No. 2 red. 163%gafte. No. 2 spring wheat, 91%gc; No. 2 red. 163%gafte.
